Defundraiser Video - Script

JOSH ANDROSKY

Hello everybody, thank you so much for coming to the Defundraiser, celebrating Measure B, the first step toward a public bank in Los Angeles!

TRINITY TRAN

In just two weeks on November 6th, LA city voters will be the first in the country to voice their support for a public bank.

DAVID JETTE

More than half the money we spend on bridges and schools and other types of infrastructure goes to interest paid to bondholders

ERIC ANDRE

Who's streets? Our streets! Who's bank? Ours bank! I've never done a chant before. I suck at it.

JOSH ANDROSKY

When you buy an ice cream, your sales tax is helping a translucent millionaire in New York City profit off of planet-destroying pipelines, guns, bombs, cigarettes, and the very cages that separate undocumented children from their families.

BERNIE IMPERSONATOR

That is wrong and I believe that together on cadence alone I can get an applause on that statement.

DAVID JETTE

Think about what an extra $100 billion worth of loans to community land trusts would do to housing prices in your neighborhood. Think about what an extra $100 billion in loans to LAUSD to improve some schools and buy some textbooks might do.

TRINITY TRAN

Public banking is an idea whose time has come. There's over 15 existing pieces of legislation moving through municipalities and states right now. We have never seen this much energy and this much momentum toward a real solution to Wall Street.

ABBY MARTIN

Buig banks and Wall Street cimrinal have had their chance. They failed. We hate to say that we need a say in what our city pays for.

TRINITY TRAN

We need your help, if you can donate a few dollars, any bit helps, please go to publicbankla.org. If you are unable to donate money you can donate time. We're organizing community events in the next few weeks to create esigns, to do textbanking...
